Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Report of the North Carolina Nutrition Survey, Vol. 2: December, 1974 The North Carolina Nutrition Survey was conducted by the State Board of Health, now the Division of Health Services, during the Spring of 1970. The sample was selected by the Research Triangle Institute. Data were collected by the Nutrition staff of the State Board of Health and were processed and analyzed by the Public Health Statistics staff. Initial findings of the survey were submitted to Governor Robert W. Scott and to the people of North Carolina in July, 1971 [1]. Details of the survey design and methods have been reported El, Briefly, the survey was designed to provide a representative sample of the household population of North Carolina. Once the scientifically designed sample of households was drawn, trained nutritionist-interviewers and field technicians collected the data by personal interview with an adult member of the household who had responsibility for meal preparation. In addition to dietary data, demographic and socio-economic household data were collected for purposes of classification. Diaries and medical characteristics of children ages one through five years were also obtained. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
