But the most important means by which the purification of the air is brought about is the function of plants to decompose carbonic acid, fixing the carbon and setting free the oxygen. Amount of Air required.--We have seen that the respiration of men and animals deprives the air of oxygen, and charges it with carbonic acid, watery vapour, ammonia and organic matters, and that an adult man abstracts from four to five per cent, of oxygen from the air at each inspiration, and expires about the same amount of carbonic acid and watery vapour. An average adult, when not at work, gives off about 0.6 cubic foot of carbonic acid per hour, rendering impure about 3,000 cubic feet of air, the standard limit of impurity being 0.6 cubic foot of carbonic acid per 1,000 cubic feet.
