Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from A Sermon: Preached in the Parish Church of Helstone, on Friday, September 6, 1839, at the Visitation of the Right Reverend Henry, Lord Bishop of Exeter Instead of thus lowering the standard of our national education, let more extended means be afforded for the spreading of our pure faith, and ih structing all classes of our countrymen in the religion of their fathers. Let it be no longer a well-founded complaint, that the means and opportunities for divine worship are totally inadequate to meet the wants of the rapidly-increasing population; and that thousands are shut out from our ministrations by want of aecom modation. Let schools be multiplied and thrown open for the education of the poor, in the sacred principles of our Church. Let the Bible, in all its completeness, be made the groundwork of all our teaching; and though we may not ourselves see the happy result, let us await it in faith, with patience; and be not weary in well doing for surely we may have full trust in Him, without whom all our efforts are vain, that...
