

Why Dont Fish Drown?: And other vital questions about the animal kingdom

By Anna Claybourne

Thames & Hudson. Hardcover. Condition: New. Claire Goble (illustrator). 96 pages. A fun introduction to the world of animals and some of nature's tricky questions. Why Don't Fish Drown is an irreverent and informative introduction to tricky questions about natural history, getting to the heart of the fascinating world of the animal kingdom and its varied cast. Why don't humans have tails? Why can't my dog talk to me? Why does a shark need such big teeth? Why Don't Fish Drown encourages children to start asking and answering questions for themselves. The book is structured around twenty-two questions. Each section explores the question and answer with detailed illustrations, photographs, or diagrams and then asks further questions on a similar theme to help build an understanding of how some animals share characteristics while others may adapt in different ways to survive in the same environment. Lighthearted but sophisticated and inventive in its content, Why Don't Fish Drown is a provocative introduction to natural history that enables children to feel confident asking and investigating the questions that interest them most. Illustrated in color throughout. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg, OR, La Vergne, TN. Hardcover.
