Excerpt from The Causes, Which Since the Reformation Have Led to the Revival and Increase of Popery: Fourth Lecture, Delivered Before the Protestant Alliance, of Nova Scotia; At Temperance Hall, Halifax, on Thursday Evening, January 27th, 1859 Evan since the time of man s first act of disobedience and apostacy, a principle of hostility toward God has existed in his heart. This hostility has at various periods manifested it self in different forms, and in a variety of ways. In every age it has been visible, in the absence of true religion, in the daring violation of God s law, and in the abounding wicked mass which has everywhere prevailed. Not long after the creation of the world, God saw the wickedness of man, that it was great in the earth, and that every imagina tion of the thoughts of his heart was only evil, and that continually. In this aversion to the only living and true God, he ran into almost every kind of idolatry,...
