It is manifest that the means used to prevent the spread of the distemper have so far proved eminently successful, inasmuch as, notwithstanding I have lost some thirty animals--nearly half of my whole herd--there has not been a single case of the disease elsewhere in the neighborhood of my farm. As there seems to be an impression abroad that the disease in my case was confined exclusively to the Dutch stock, I would remark that such is not the fact; that on the contrary, they have, comparatively, been more exempt from it than any other breed. It is not, however, confined to any particular breed, or to any age or sex, as the full-grown ox, the mature cow, and the young calf have been alike prostrated by it; and of the animals lost, five were thorough-bred Dutch, five Durham, one Ayrshire, one Guernsey, two Jerseys, five Devons, to Natives, (all the Natives on the farm,) and the remainder were grade Dutch. There has been no new case of sickness in my herd since the death of the mammoth cow, Lady Washington, which occurred on the 8th of January, and I am therefore induced to believe, that, so far as my animals are concerned, the disease has run its course. From the foregoing remarks, it will be perceived that some months ago, when the disease was raging, I believed it to be infectious or contagious, but I confess that more recently the conviction has forced...
