Excerpt from The Latter Day Saints Millennial Star, Vol. 87: May 28, 1925 TO properly comprehend the great plan of human redemption, designed by the Father for the blessing of His children, it is necessary that we be familiar with His hand-dealings with the people Of the world, from the beginning Of time, as we count it, until the present. It is not sufficient that we familiarise ourselves with the dispensation alone, in which we live, important though that be. We must know something Of the past, as history has written it, the present as we see and understand, and the future as the prophets have declared it. Without this grouping Of the past, the present and the future, our vision will be restricted and incomplete. I desire, my brethren and sisters, to take you back more than four thousand years, to a period Of time when an event occurred which was Of transcendent importance to us, when a promise was made by the Lord which has not yet been fully verified, but toward the fulfilment Of which we are rapidly moving. It was about 122 years after the Deluge that the Lord called Abram, who at the time was seventy-five years of age, and a direct descendant of Shem, the chosen son of Noah, commanding him to go out from the country Of his kindred, and from his father s house, into a land which He promised to give to him, and to his posterity after him for an everlasting inheritance. In Obedience to the word of the Lord Abram went from Haran, to which place he had been taken by his father, from Ur Of Chaldea, and pitched his tent in...
