THE OLD BLUE HENS CHICKENS

CreateSpace Independent Publishing Platform. Paperback. Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. 242 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.5in. Why would a holy man, on a holy day, in a holy place commit murder in front of his entire congregation? When a seven foot tall tyrant shoots an unarmed young man, who is running from him and his three hundred pound brother, the astonished members of his congregation and the town folk want to know why a preacher would do such a thing! Tim Gentry also needs to find out why. This vile murder intruded into his life when at five years of age, he was a witness and it continues to nag at him. He remembers the pandemonium that followed the killing on Christmas Eve Day, 1910 at the Piney Woods Church in the mountains of northern Georgia. He remembers the whispers and arguments in the town and in his family over the killing of Pickens Bradshaw. As he grew up and time passed, the talk faded. Now he wished he had asked more questions. Tim wants some answers. He is going back home to talk to as many people as he can find who were there that day or have some knowledge of the murder before or after the event. His skills as a newspaper reporter in Columbus, Ohio, will help him get to the details. His personal life is a mess and Tim hopes that getting some answers to this age old question will bring him relief. His boss gives him a months leave. This story-within-a-story unfolds as Tim digs into the mystery and gains an unexpected collaborator with a personal interest for very different reasons, Zoey Sinclair. As more parts to the puzzle are found, they are astounded to learn that after Rev. Joe Gilmer...
