Building Wealth with 50 is written for the independent investor looking for a little straight forward information about investing in stocks. In these difficult economic times preparing for a secure financial future has become an essential part of our lives. More people are turning away from traditional financial advisors and taking a more hands on approach to their investment decisions. Helping the individual investor take control of their financial life is the central theme of this book. There is a lot of information on television and the internet about investing and lets face it, most of it is confusing to the average person. We have all been taught that the stock market is risky and you need thousands of dollars and a financial advisor to invest. Where can an investor turn to buy stocks with smaller dollar amounts Direct Stock Purchase Plans (DSPPs); that is buying stocks directly without a broker using small dollar amounts. With many investors looking for alternatives to traditional brokerage accounts, DSPPs offer a welcome change from high fees and confusing investments. These investment plans are designed to help all investors maximized every dollar. 50 is enough money to start an investment or wealth building plan, but most financial advisors would tell you that at least 2,000 is needed. But consider this, 50 invested at 6 every month over 30 years is over 50,200. Investing small amounts can quickly add up over time. The advice found in this book is for both beginners and seasoned investors. Exploring answers to questions that are commonly asked by investors. How do I make money from buying, selling and holding stocks Why would a company pay a dividend What stocks make up...
