Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: Thieme, Stuttgart | Includes videos online | Hearing loss is one of the leading contributors to the global disease burden. In particular, the increasing population of people aged 65 years and older is expected to be a key driver. In children, hearing screening programs are becoming a worldwide standard, improving auditory rehabilitation options from a very young age. Implantable auditory technology - which, apart from cochlear implants, includes auditory brainstem implants, bone-anchored hearing aids, and implantable middle-ear devices - is an emerging field, and these devices represent a new era in hearing rehabilitation. However, cochlear implantation (CI) is still the biggest segment in the hearing implants market. CI is performed in a growing number of patients worldwide, and the indications are widening, helped by technological advancements. This comprehensive, high-level surgical reference and atlas is tailored for surgeons who are undergoing training for cochlear implant procedures and implantable auditory devices and for experienced surgeons who would like to expand their knowledge, improve their skills and outcomes, and learn advanced surgical techniques. Following the principle underlying Professor Sanna's other successful publications, Surgery for Cochlear and Other Auditory Implants takes an integrated approach to anatomy, imaging, technology, decision making, surgical procedures described step-by-step, and clinical cases. This allows readers to:- Improve the efficiency and outcomes of CI and other auditory implant surgeries- Learn the required basic and advanced surgical techniques- Evaluate different surgical options and types of implants- Review common and uncommon variations of anatomy and malformations- Understand issues and surgical modifications unique to pediatric cochlear implantation, revision surgery, and in post-meningitis, otosclerosis, and NF2 cases- Find decision-making algorithms for difficult pathologies- Examine common and not so common intraoperative dilemmas and strategies to resolve them- Review preoperative assessment and set up and outcomes- Find out about classification systems in CI failure, malformations, otosclerosis, post-meningitis. Supplementing the...
