Excerpt: .Prussian budget contains provisions for four new professorships in the university, including two in medicine, one in hilology, and one in botany. The appropriations for most 0 the laboratories, c., in connection with the university have likewise been notably increased. The Gewerbe-Akademie is to receive an important addition in the shape of a department for the examination of iron, in which the physical and mechanical properties of the various sorts of Prussian iron--unwrought as well as manufactured---can be thorou hly tested, and ofically approved. A similar institute, and t e only one hitherto in Germany, has existed for a number of years at Munich, and has been of great value to the iron industry in South Germany. The lectures of Prof. Du Bois-Reymond on physiology have become so popular that no lecture-room in the university is of sufficient size to accommodate his numerous hearers. INNSBRUCK.--The winter attendance at the university is 605, an increase of 27 on the past semester. The philosophical faculty includes l 59, the medical 55, the legal 206, and the theological 185. JENA.--The university is attended at present by 488 students, a diminution of 102 on the number of the past summer. Of the 2i9 in the philosophical faculty 64 study philosophy and history, 73 mathematics and natural sciences, 62 chemistry and pharmacy, and 20 political economy and agriculture. The attendance from foreign countries is but 35, and Jens. is one of the few European universities where England is not...
