An experience of nearly forty years has convinced the author, that the use of a grammar-like publication for initiating into a study of plants is alike wearisome to the teacher and children, and that as a rule, subject to rare exceptions, the knowledge acquired from the ordinary first elementary works on Botany is as quickly lost as gained. The only method of rendering such studies agreeable and lastingly fruitful consists in arousing an interest of the young scholars in the native plants of their locality, to afford them all possible facilities to recognise and discriminate all the various plants within reach, to lead them by...
