Excerpt from Report to the 1975 General Assembly of North Carolina, Second Session 1976: The Highway Patrol, 1975-76 Interim Special Study by the House of Representatives Committee on Professional Law Enforcement Personnel and Practices; Raleigh, North Carolina, May 12, 1976 The first interim meeting of the House Committee on Professional Law Enforcement Personnel and Practices was held on January 8, -976. This and the other Committee meetings were held in the State Legislative Building in Raleigh. Chairman Holmes had asked the Committee members to talk individually with Highway Patrol troopers in their areas, and the first part of the meeting was devoted to discussion of information gathered in these legislator-trooper conferences. The interviews did disclose the existence of problems, but the Committee members found that the overall patrol morale is generally good, that the patrol remains strong, and that the troopers are proud to serve in the patrol. There are a number of problem areas that are a common concern to troopers across the State. The troopers feel that their salaries are generally too low, that there is a high risk factor in their work that is not adequately compensated, and that there is not enough difference between the trooper pay schedule and the schedule for sergeant. Troopers feel that the State does not carry enough liability insurance on patrol cars, that information on the Law Enforcement Officers Retirement System is difficult to find, and that there are some problems with patrol equipment, particularly in communications. They are also concerned about political factors in patrol promotion decisions and there is sentiment for moving the patrol out of the Department of Transportation to an independent status under the Governor. The Committee identified five of...
