In the year 1853 the writer-located near the city of Oshkosh, Wis. Heard the general complaint about the grow ing of tame grasses, and it was an admitted fact that Wisconsin was never designed to become a dairy state of any importance, or even the respected state of Illinois. It is wonderful to contemplate the change that has taken place since that period to this time, relating to the dairy interest, of which. You are all informed as to its progress. We know by experience that the looser we make the soil with the plow we increase its capacity to recelve heat, which will aid rapid evaporation of moisture, so very essential to promote a strong growth of vegetation, especially that of grass, which was one of the principal causes in the loss of the young seeding in the early settlement of the north-west. Again, another reason for the loss was this: Chemical analysis of wheat and Timothy hay shows that they require about the same elements from the soil to sustain a vigorous growth. Here the farmer was disappointed in the unsatisfactory growth of his favorite grass, which was timothy. The writer has a thorough agri cultural education, one naturally adapted to the growing of grasses. Here on the old homestead was my instruction in the system of sur face-culture 1n the improvement of grass lands. At the time of writing there is grass land that has never been broken...
