Excerpt from Railway Regulation and Locomotor Ataxia: An Address by Frank Trumbull, Chairman, Railway Executives Advisory Committee, Before the Twenty-Third Annual Convention of the National Hay Association at Cedar Point, Ohio, July 12, 1916 That there is in this country a fundamental need of adequate transportation facilities. That such facilities during the continuance of present economic conditions can only be had by means of private capital, combined with private enterprise. That private capital can only be obtained by the hope and realization of fair and reasonable return. That to produce such return, freight rates may be raised, when it is shown that existing rates as a whole (considered regionally in this case) yield inadequate revenue, and that the higher rates proposed would be reasonable. That such reasonable passenger fares may be charged as will yield a fair return on the property devoted to passenger use, and further - that in general each class of service, including the mail and express, should contribute its just proportion to the total economic cost of operation. That in determining reasonable rates, interest upon rail way debt is...
