Houston, Secretary of Agriculture, Before the Trans-Mississippi Readjustment Congress, Omaha, Nebraska, February 20, 1919 I regret to say that I have no set speech to make to you. I have declined even to select a subject. I discover, however, that your program committee and the chairman have insisted on assigning me a subject, and I suppose, in ordinary courtesy, that I shall have at least to touch upon it. I doubted very much Whether I ought to come to this meeting. I have been very busy in Washington, especially for the last two years. There are those Who seem to think that people in Washington do not Work very much. I hope those Who have been called there dur ing the war to assist the ordinary agencies of the Government will be able to give a different impression, for I think some of them have discovered that there are things to be done in Washington, very difficult and complex tasks, which require more time than one has at his disposal. I felt, however, that I could not...
