

Mrs. Mattingly's Miracle: The Prince, the Widow, and the Cure that Shocked Washi

By Schultz, Nancy Lusignan.

Yale. 1 Paperback(s), 2011. soft. Book Condition: New. In 1824 in Washington, D.C., Ann Mattingly, widowed sister of the city's mayor, was miraculously cured of a ravaging cancer. Just days from her predicted demise, she arose from her sickbed free from agonizing pain and able to enjoy an additional 31 years of life. Mattingly's astonishing healing, purportedly through the intervention of charismatic German cleric Prince Alexander Hohenlohe, ignited political, social, and religious controversy. In her gripping account, Nancy Schultz captures the drama of the miracle and its repercussions, as it heralded a rising tide of anti-Catholicism that would culminate in violence over the next two decades. "Schultz, a professor of English, lets the story emerge as a good yarn . [and] brings an impressive depth of scholarship to this odd, forgotten chapter of America's early social history. The result is a gripping slice of history with fresh, often unsettling resonances for the modern reader."Washington Post 274.
