Ebenezer Erskine, Vol. 3 of 3: Minister of the Gospel at Stirling, Consisting of Sermons and Discourses, on Important and Interesting Subjects I Shall not consume time in introducing myself into these words. It is thought by some interpreters, that this psalm was penned by Solomon, upon the occasion of the dedication of the temple to God. The first part of the psalm, namely, from the beginning of it to verse 10, consists of petitions. The second part, namely, from verse 11, to the close, consists of a bundle of great and precious promises relating to David and his family in the type, but mainly and ultimately to Christ and his New Testament church in the antitype. God promises, (1.) To fix his residence in his church, verse 13, 14: For the Lord hath chosen Zion: he hath desired it for his habitation. This is my rest for ever: here will I dwell, for I have desired it. God s gracious presence in his church, and amongst his people, makes her the perfection of beauty, and the praise of the whole earth. (2.) He promises to bless the provision he makes for them, verse 15: I will abundantly bless her provision: I will satisfy her poor with bread. He will supply all their needs, according to his riches in glory, by Christ Jesus. He will feed them with the hidden manna, c. (3.) He promises to give her faithful and successful ministers, verse 16: I will clothe her priests with salvation.
