

Defending the West: The United States Air Force and European Security 1946-1998 (Paperback)

By Eduard Mark, Office of Air Force History, U S Air Force

Createspace, United States, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .The United States Army Air Forces became an independent service, the United States Air Force, in 1947-the second year, supposedly, of peace. In reality there had just begun a long conflict between the United States and its allies and the Soviet Union and the satellite states subject to it. In 1949 the United States and most of the non-Communist countries of Europe signed the North Atlantic Treaty. The United States Air Force, which had been only a token presence on the continent since the end of World War II, once more crossed the Atlantic in strength. The commitment of that service to peace and security in Europe, which continues still, has been the longest of its history. This pamphlet attempts to give the general reader some sense of the role the USAF has played in Europe since the end of World War II. It contains three sections. The first reviews the reasons for the origins of the Cold War and describes the strategic concerns that drove the United States to commit itself to the military defense of distant lands. The second section reviews...
