Excerpt from Foreign Crops and Markets, Vol. 62: February 19, 1951 On a value basis, cotton continued in first place among agricultural exports, shipments during the month being valued at a reduction of 8 percent from the $105, h33,000 worth exported during the same month a year ago. Wheat and flour remained in second position with exports valued at a reduction of 22 percent from the worth exported during the corresponding month last year. Leaf tobacco constituted the month's third most important agricultural export, with shipments valued at a reduction of 5 percent from the worth exported in December 1949. On a quantitative basis, the outstanding features of the December 1950 agricultural exports, compared with those in December a year earlier, were the large increases in exports of butter, cheese, nonfat dry milk solids, dried eggs, pork, tallow, grapefruit, pears, canned fruits, barley and malt, soybeans and soybean oil, hops, and dried beans and peas. On the other hand, large or substantial reductions are revealed in exports of evaporated milk, beef and veal, lard, cotton, apples, oranges, dried prunes, raisins...
