The whole North is in a ferment at present, and people are every day engaging one another to go next year to tie West Indies; the humour has spread like a contagious distemper, and tlie people will hurdly hear anybody that tries to cure them of their madness; the wont u that it affects only Protestants, and reijini chitfly in the North, which i the seat of our Ham manufacture This letter was written above a century ago, in 1728, and was followed by another letter the year after, whieh says: The humour of going to America still continues, and the scarcity of provisions certainly makes many quit us; there are now seven ships at Belfast tlutt are carrying about 1000 passengers thither. Thus wo learn that even then a thousand emigrants sailed from one single port, ami still farther learn that this Protestant emigration was deemed by the then Primate and the government of the day a fitting subject for anxious inquiry. Although there were, no doubt, some subsidiary causes, yet the main cause of this desertion was the conduct of the..
