

Winner Take None

By Greg Comer

Barking Rain Press. Paperback. Condition: New. 264 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.7in. Can a 14-year-old orphan out-con a heartless bunch of rustlers, hustlers and railroad thugs? When Deuter Seebea loses his family and only friend on the way to Oregon in 1879, he has no place to go, and nobody to turn to. He flees his friends' murderer and ends up in Railstop, a shantytown in Montana Territory that's populated by neer-do-wells, shady ladies and a maniacal cat named MaryBelle. Deuter quickly learns the hard way that if he wants something done, he'll have to do it himself and watch his own back. He soon discovers that the conniving residents built Railstop directly in the path of the approaching F&R Railroad line for the sole purpose of extorting a windfall settlement. When the payoff finally comes, however, it's every man, woman, and cat for themselves in a ruthless and hilarious quest for wealth, glory, and hootch whiskey. Winner take all, or winner take none, Deuter is willing to fight and scheme for his unfair share of the spoils. An in-your-face, authentic take on the wild, Wild West! Comer's sensuous writing drew me in as if the story was a movie. The...

This pdf is wonderful. We have gone through it and so I am certain that I am going to go back to study it yet again once more in the future. It's been developed in an exceedingly straightforward way which is merely after I finished reading through this pdf where it really transformed me, modified the way I think.
