

Now the Chips Are Down: The BBC Micro (Hardback)

By Alison Gazzard

MIT Press Ltd, United States, 2016. Hardback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. The story of a pioneering microcomputer: its beginnings as part of a national Computer Literacy Project, its innovative hardware, and its creative uses. In 1982, the British Broadcasting Corporation launched its Computer Literacy Project, intended to introduce interested adults to the world of computers and computing. The BBC accompanied this initiative with television programs, courses, books, and software -- an early experiment in multi-platform education. The BBC, along with Acorn Computers, also introduced the BBC Microcomputer, which would be at the forefront of the campaign. The BBC Micro was designed to meet the needs of users in homes and schools, to demystify computing, and to counter the general pessimism among the media in Britain about technology. In this book, Alison Gazzard looks at the BBC Micro, examining the early capabilities of multi-platform content generation and consumption and the multiple literacies this approach enabled -- not only in programming and software creation, but also in accessing information across a range of media, and in do-it-yourself computing. She links many of these early developments to current new-media practices. Gazzard looks at games developed for the BBC Micro, including Granny...
