VDM Verlag. Paperback. Condition: New. 60 pages. Dimensions: 8.7in. x 5.9in. x 0.1in. This book reports on a study of two high school mathematics curricula that were compared to determine whether there are any differences in teaching from a traditional, skilled-based curriculum and a reform, problem-solving curriculum. Participating in the study were eighty- two students in grade eleven who were enrolled in their third year of college preparatory mathematics. An analysis of test scores found no significant difference between students who were taught using a traditional mathematics curriculum and students who were taught using a reform curriculum. In order to meet the needs of all students, teachers need to employ a variety of strategies to be successful. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg,OR, La Vergne,TN. Paperback.
