The Old Testament writings began about three thousand five hundred years ago as man was coming out of the Neolithic period of earth's history. This alone makes it a wonder difficult to believe. Such eloquence coming from primitive man seems to be a fairytale in itself. Today this ancient text matches the evolution of our universe and all life therein to a tee. Science tells us that the stars in our heaven were created in an instant; first there was nothing - then there was something - us. God said: let the dry land appear: and it was so. (Revelation 12:9) Science and scripture agree exactly on the Big Bang Theory, however, the Bible uses an economy of words and no research whatsoever to arrive at the same conclusion. God; or a power beyond our comprehension or ability to describe, created the universe in an instant, and man has no clue where we came from; only that boom; we were here. Scripture takes our origins a step further in the book of Revelation: and the dragons tail drew the third...
