The author has endeavored to present in a simple and logical way the subjects which relate directly to the facts of our language, and to the laws of its structure. It recognizes the fact that our language is not grammarless. We emphatically disagree with those who decry the teaching of grammar, and who even insist that the English language is devoid of grammar. Grammar is an excellent mental gymnastic. It is highly essential that, when teaching a child to speak, the foundation be laid for the correct use of the English sentence. The great trouble has been with our young people, and many of the older ones, that they did not know when they had made a correct sentence. Every one who expects to write good English should master the elementary forms and principles of grammar, but this should be done in connection with composition and critical reading. Unfortunately, composition has been...
