

The Cause of an Ice Age (Classic Reprint)

By Sir Robert S. Ball

Forgotten Books. Paperback. Condition: New. 196 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.5in. We are to discuss in the following pages some of those revolutions of which in ages past our earth has been the scene. Perhaps it would be rather more correct to say that we are to discuss a whole series of revolutions, each of which bears a general resemblance to the rest. The date at which our story opens is a very remote one judged by ordinary historical standards. There is not even a tradition to which we might refer which would give the slightest record of these great events ; yet when viewed from a geological standpoint the phenomena with which we shall have to deal assume quite a modern character. Ages had already elapsed since the surface of the earth had consolidated. Successive layers of the stratified rocks, up to what we may call the recent period, had been deposited. Numberless races of animals and various tribes of plants had come into being and had passed away before the times of which we write. Indeed, the very animals and plants which at present inhabit our globe had already occupied it. The crust of the...
