By Frederick Jones Bliss

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Development of Palestine Exploration: Being the Ely Lectures for 1903 It was like communing with these holy men themselves to visit the places where their feet had trod, and where many of them had held converse with the Most High. So muses Robinson, after following in the footsteps of the Patriarchs and Prophets in an excursion to the north of Jerusalem. Here is an old, old theme, linking together the Pilgrims to Palestine; through all time the same - no matter to what key it be attuned, no matter with what variations it be expressed. Sung by highborn Dame from the West, haughty Mohammedan, fierce Crusader, poor Jewish Exile, ponderous Scholastic, staid Puritan - yes, by modern impressionist: Silvia, Nasir, Saewulf, Rabbi Parchi, Quaresmio, Robinson, Pierre Loti - whatever may have boon your song before you came; whatever it may be when you return home; while you arc here, this theme, pulsating in the very atmosphere, sings itself into your heart, sing itself how it may on your lips.
