Accountability Office, 2010 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)689998458 Subject: Data protection -- United States. Excerpt: . . . To establish individual accountability, monitor compliance with security Audit and Monitoring of policies, and investigate security violations, it is crucial to determine what, Security-Relevant Events Were when, and by whom specific actions have been taken on a system. Inadequate Organizations accomplish this by implementing system or security software that provides an audit trail for determining the source of a transaction or attempted transaction and monitoring user activity. To be effective, organizations should ( 1 ) configure the software to collect and maintain a sufficient audit trail for security-relevant events; ( 2 ) generate reports that selectively identify unauthorized, unusual, and sensitive access activity; and ( 3 ) regularly monitor and take action on these reports. NIST guidance states that an organization should review and analyze information system audit records for indications of inappropriate or unusual activity, and should report the findings to designated organization officials. NIST guidance also states that organizations should track and monitor access by individuals who use elevated...
