Excerpt from Condition of Federal Laboratories: Hearing Before the Joint Economic Committee, Congress of the United States, One Hundred Third Congress, First Session, September 23, 1993 The Committee met, pursuant to notice, at 10:05 a.m., in room SD-628, Dirksen Senate Office Building, Honorable PaulS. Sarbanes (Chairman of the Committee) presiding. Present: Senator Sarbanes. Also present: William Buechner, Richard Clinch, Lawrence Hunter, Ed Hutchings, professional staff members. Opening Statement Of Senator Sarbanes, Chairman Senator Sarbanes. The Committee will come to order. I would inform the witnesses that the Senate is in session and we may be interrupted with votes from time to time, in which case we will simply have to recess the Committee for purposes of voting and then resume as promptly as we can. This morning, the Joint Economic Committee is meeting to examine the deteriorating physical condition of federal scientific laboratories across the country. The hearing will focus and, in a sense, take its impetus from a new General Accounting Office report being released today, entitled, Federal Research: Aging Federal Laboratories Need Repairs and Upgrades. The federal labs conduct...
