Not illustrated. 1910 Excerpt: .luncheon at the United Chinese Society s building from noon till 2 p. m. The second and third days are largely given up to driving about in autos and carriages in companies of young men and also in families with which the mothers and elder daughters participate freely without the national restraint hitherto observed respecting their sex. February 22, Washington s Birthday.--This is now gazetted as a legal holiday, and from its general observance in a quiet way, as was our custom for half a century or so, it has become one of the most demonstrative on the calendar since the addition of the annual floral parade has become an established feature therewith, since its transfer from a Thanksgiving Day event (which originated in 1904), and changed the following year to the spring month with its more settled weather and floral possibilities. To the annual auto floral parade was added, in 1906, that of the pa-u riders, an association of Hawaiian women on horseback, astride, in their ancient style of flowing (pa-u) skirt, with selected daughters of the land to represent each island princess with their appointed pages and attendants. What began as a floral-decked auto parade has thus taken on new and additional features, the procession the past two years including a number of historic and national floats. An innovation was made last year in the parade, and again in the evening, of Pilikia, an ogre representing trouble, which upon (mock) trial was condemned and...
