Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Introduction Forbesmagazine ranked Guzman as one of the most powerful people in the World, ranking 41st, 60th and 55th respectively. He was thus the second most powerful man in Mexico, after Carlos Slim. He was named as the 10th richest man in Mexico, with a net worth of roughly U.S. $1 billion. The magazine also calls him the biggest Drug Lord of all time, and the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) estimates he has surpassed the influence and reach of Pablo Escobar, and now considers him the Godfather of the Drug World. In 2013, the Chicago Crime Commission named Guzman Public Enemy Number One for the influence of his criminal network in Chicago, though there is no evidence that Guzman has ever been in that City. The last person to receive such notoriety was Al Capone in 1930. Joaquin Archivaldo Guzman Loera was born into a poor family in the rural Community of La Tuna, Badiraguato, Sinaloa, Mexico. Few details are known of Guzman's upbringing. As a child, Guzman sold oranges, and dropped out of School in the third grade to work with his father. Guzman was regularly beaten and sometimes fled to his maternal grandmother's house to escape such treatment. When he was a teenager, however, his father kicked him out of his house, and he went to live with his grandfather. It was during his adolescence that Guzman earned the nickname El Chapo, Mexican slang for Shorty. If Donald Trump becomes President, he is vowing to build a Wall along the U.S. Southern Border with Mexico, likening it to the Great Wall of China and even dubbing his proposed Border Barrier The Great Wall of Trump. It is a key part of a tough-on-Immigration stance that has powered him to...
