Reviews

This pdf is definitely not easy to get started on studying but quite entertaining to read through. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

CROPS AND MARKETS, VOL. 6: DECEMBER 4, 1926 (CLASSIC REPRINT) (PAPERBACK)

FBC LTD, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Crops and Markets, Vol. 6: December 4, 1926 October agricultural exports showed a seasonal increase over those of August and September. Both for all commodities and for all-commodities except cotton the index numbers were above those of October, 1925, but below those of October, 1924. Cotton exports alone, on the other hand, were much heavier than in October, 1924, and only slightly below the heavy exports of October, 1925. Grain exports showed a further decline from the high point in August. Exports of lard and hams and bacon showed a marked decline, while dairy products went below the level of the previous month. The greatest increases over September aside from cotton were in fruits and tobacco. The index numbers for October, 1926, in comparison with previous months are shown in the following table.
