By Charles Trevelyan

Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Three Letters From Sir Charles Trevelyan to the Times On London Pauperism: With the Leading Article Upon Them and Extracts From How to Relieve the Poor of Edinburgh and Other Great Cities, Without Increasing Pauperism, a Tried, Successful, and Economical Plan, 1867 Sir, - The pauperised, demoralised state of London is the scandal of our age. London is the metropolis, not only of the United Kingdom, but also Of an empire upon which the sun never sets, including the vassal continent of India, itself an empire. London is the foremost city of Christendom; and at this season the delegates assemble here of societies which have for their Object the evangelisation of the world. The population of London is as large as the aggregate population of the three next largest European cities - Paris, Vienna, and Berlin - and it closely approximates to that Of Scotland, is nearly equal to the population of Holland, and is not quite three times that of Wales. The wealth of London is even more remarkable than its population; and British dependencies and foreign nations...
