Createspace, United States, 2009. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Manhandling is a full guide to categorizing men, finding the right man, reshaping him, and the proper treatment and care of him for best results. This humorous look at relationships, dating and women s expectations was written by Shelley-Anne Wooderson and Beth Bernier The authors were both happily married women when they began writing this book. At least that is what they thought. Then they became experts and with the help of this book both are now divorced. You have been warned. No one has ever provided a manual for categorizing and properly handling those creatures that us women are constantly surrounded by most: men. How this was overlooked in unknown, but the science needed classifications and the manual is now written.
