As a skillful boxer, as a hard-hitter, and as a tactician of the first order, Mr. Sullivan has no superior. He makes his calculations for a battle with a coolness and correct judgment seldom equaled, never surpassed; and the success invariably attending him in his contests is sufficient proof that his discrimination and keen perception have been carefully and systematically studied. No man was ever more safe to back than Sullivan, and those who ventured their money, did so with a perfect knowledge that, if they lost, it would not be for want of exertion in their man, for as long as there was the shadow of a chance left him, Sullivan would use his utmost endeavors to obtain the victory. In but one instance did he suffer defeat, and that was an honorable defeat - for, when we look at the great disparity in the size as well as the weight of the men, (Hyer and Sullivan,) it is really astonishing how he withstood the great odds against him as long and...
