Beliefs of the Heart Press. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 102 pages. Dimensions: 7.9in. x 5.0in. x 0.4in. In this collection of pithy and thought-provoking writings, Sam Williamson shows why being saved by grace isn't enough: we need--indeed we long--to live by it. Excerpt: Several years ago I met with a woman distraught over her sons rejection of Christianity. She said, I did everything I could to raise him right. I taught him to be like the heroes of faith, with the faithfulness of Abraham, the goodness of Joseph, the pure heart of David, and the obedience of Esther. She wondered why he had rejected Christianity. I wondered why it took him so long. People in the world often reject Christianity simply because they can't distinguish it from mere morality. The world needs morality--oppression thrives when consciences are abandoned--but we need more than that alone. We need the gospel of grace. A gospel that has largely been lost amid the dos and don'ts and preoccupations of religious culture. People often pit grace against moralism. And they should. Moralism circumvents heart-changed morality. We need moral men and women, but moralism damages the foundation of heart-change. It's okay to pit grace against moralism, but let's not pit grace against morality. Grace is the source of real morality, and grace--thank God!--breaks the bars of moralism that imprison us. Is Sunday School Destroying Our Kids exposes moralism for its false pretensions--the sham that it is--and it moves our hearts to believe the gospel, for the first, or the hundred-and-first, time. From readers: I like what Sam Williamson has to say about how good people--people like us--may be piling burdens on our children they can't possibly bear. Has the good news of the gospel magically morphed into bad news for them? Read Sam's provocative new book...
