Brand New Book  Print on Demand .This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1835 Excerpt: .ignorance. So far from iU being Colonel Torrent doctrine, that corn grown in Australia for domestic purpose will, on an average, in the case of the application of equal quantities of labour, yield 50 per cent, less profit than wool, that he has expressly laid it down (p. 156), that if the staple of Australia commands, in relation to its producing labour, 50 per cent, more than the staple of Canada, then the principle of competition will cause all the products of Australian labour to bear a higher price by 50 per cent, than the corresponding portion of Canadian labour. The doctrine of Colonel Torrens is, in fact, so directly the converse of that which has been unfairly imputed to him, and the conclusions of the Review are altogether so dependent on the validity of these premises, that we have, in fact, exposed the fallacy of the one, by showing the falsehood of the other. We might here, therefore, readily pass on without further comment, if we did not wish to expose the total want of honesty, which is apparent in every portion of the paragraph. For instance; the figures cited in the garbled passage, the errors of which we have already detected, are, in the work of Colonel Torrens, assumed merely as hypothetical approximations. By reference to p. 155 of Colonel Torrens work, it will be seen that he expressly states, that we have no data by which we can ascertain in what exact proportions...
